

A worldwide business network that is readily accessible through our innovative electronic trade system that includes more than 1,200,000 members eager to conduct international trading business.

2. Reciprocal membership to all WTC' s around the world which are eager to receive, accommodate and support your international business ventures. The facilities and assistance of approximately 326 WTC's in 92 countries, including office space, meeting arrangements, local information and other business services.

3. Only a 2 hour flight from New York, Chicago, Miami, Montreal.

4. An ideal environment for hosting business events and an exceptional restaurant ambiance for relaxed deal making. Exclusive catering service.

5. Access to a premier business locale in downtown Atlanta with the highest class lodging facilities and business environment for conducting first class business.

6. A world traveled dynamic and multilingual management readily available to support your business. We speak: French, Spanish, Haitian- Creole, Romanian, Russian, Indian, Bulgarian languages. Translation Services available up on request.

7. Close proximity and relationship with our distinguished corporate sponsors and members which include: SunTrust, Bank of America, AJC International, FedEx, Delta Air Lines, GA Port of Savannah, Georgia International Travel, Global Atlanta.

8. Exclusive free posting of your company and product information on the WTCA website, providing exposure to millions of potential buyers around the globe.

9. Access to exclusive marketing support information on the WTCA website, including business tools, directories and listings, databases such as trade law information, shipping and logistics, trade promotion organizations.

10. Reduced costs for your North American traveling through our membership association with Ritz Carlton, Marriott, Hilton and Hyatt

11. Free publicity, parking, facility usage.

Market

Research:

Customized research to help you grow internationally by providing the following:

- Answers to your international business questions through our global network of World Trade Centers, access to overseas state and federal representatives, and proprietary databases and websites
- Export partner information and a listing of potential distributors and agents along with information on how to approach and evaluate them
- Foreign market information including: market size, trends, inherent cultural and other barriers that need to be addressed to support international trade.

Networking Events and Educational Seminars:

Make invaluable contacts and learn from experts at discounted member rates. World Trade Centers Association Membership: Joining the WTCA automatically makes you part of the global WTCA community. A few of the many benefits include:

- Exclusive free posting of your company and product information on the WTCA website, providing exposure to millions of potential buyers around the globe
- Access to exclusive marketing support information on the WTCA website, including business tools, directories and listings, databases such as Stat-USA, trade law information, trade promotion organizations and shipping and logistics. You'll also access new trade leads and be able to post your own product information.
- The facilities and assistance of approximately 326 World Trade Centers in 92 countries including: office space, meeting arrangements, local information and other business services.

Legal Assistance:

Get a head-start on what it takes to engage in international trade through our Legal Referral Program.

Trade Missions and Trade Shows:

Being there is the best way to experience a new market. Trade missions enable you to connect with a potential market first hand while expanding opportunities and promoting commercial ties. The WTCA organizes and promotes its own missions as well as missions led by local, state and federal entities. If representatives of your company are not able to join us on a trade mission, our highly-experienced staff can represent you at one-on-one business meetings.

The World Trade Center of Atlanta opens the door to international business opportunity – and provides ongoing support every step of the way.